TEARING DOWN THE FLAG.

So much are Northern Democrats elated by the recent elections that already they begin, boldly, to justify the Rebellion. General BUTLER hanged MUMFORD for tearing the Stars and Stripes down from the cupola of the Custom House in New Orleans. RIVES POLLARD has published a journal purporting to have been kept by Mrs. MUMFORD, during the days of his offence, trial and death. In it the offence is circumstantially stated, justified and applauded. BUTLER, as "one of LINCOLN's advocates," is stigmatized as a tyrant. MUMFORD was most defiant and bravado in his disloyalty. The journal is very pathetic and very stagy, having more the style of a translation of some French novel, than the veritable journal of a woman under such circumstances; for instance, in describing the funeral, and showing that she was deeply sensible of the effect produced upon the spectators, by her appearance there with her children, when her secession friends feared to speak to her, the chaplain of a Massachusetts regiment came and offered his arm, which she took, and, says the interesting widow, whose sorrows are now to put loyalty to shame:

"For this I was slandered. Here are some of the remarks that were made: 'So Mrs. Mumford has renounced her secession principles, and is hand and glove with the Federals;' 'Mrs. Mumford walked into the grave-yard with a Yankee minister.' 'She ought to be ashamed of herself.' Oh! if there is anything diabolical on this earth, it is a slanderer. The earth has a snake for its base, so Bistnoo affirms; no wonder there is so much venom in it."

Imagine a woman whose husband has been hanged going from the grave to indite so astute and philosophical a sentiment! Yet the entry is dated on the day of the funeral, probably it was written while the inconsolable widow sat before a mirror, to note the effect of her mourning and wonder if the chaplain were married. It is too absurd to suppose that the two columns of sensation sentimentality which the Cincinnati Enquirer copies from the Southern Opinion, could ever have been written under the circumstances represented; but they are made the occasion of lauding MUMFORD. The editor says:

"We are glad to have the privilege of offering the public a so complete and truthful account of a tragedy that thrilled the world at the time of its accomplishment. Was there ever such sublime heroism shown as by that brave man!"

When Northern editors hold such men up as examples of "sublime heroism" on the first show of reaction in favor of Democracy, what might we expect if the Democrats gain the ascendancy in the Government.

BEFORE the election the Republican State Central Committee offered a prize banner to the county which made the largest increase in the vote cast for Mr. Williams over that given General Geary. So far as we can judge Wayne county, away up in the north-eastern part of the State, is entitled to the prize. It shows an increase of two hundred and fifty votes, which is, ratably to the whole vote, larger than the increase of any other county. Let her claims be weighed, and if found just, as we believe them to be, forward the banner as an acknowledgment of her fidelity to principle. While other counties fell back in the fight, and permitted the Democracy to achieve a tribmph, Wayne held her ground and charged with increased vigor on the enemy.

A NEGRO MAN named Miles beat his wife with the tongs on Tuesday morning, in St. Lou's, and shortly afterwards stabbed a mulatto named George Sigel, who had twitted him on his matrimonial infelicities. After seeing that Sigel, who was but half witted, was dead, he walked, knife in hand, to the station house and gave himself up.

THE New York Day Book says "the leaders of the Republican party from Lincoln down to the tail end of its official existence, deserved crucifixion a thousand times over for its one impious, fathomless and unpronounceable crime of "emancipation."

IN Florida the completed registration returns show a majority of negroes registered over whites. The official report of the registry foots up 26,038, of whom 10,804 are whites, and 15,234 blacks, a colored majority of 4,420.

Gov. SWAN'S army paraded on the 16th, according to programme, and one regiment wore the national uniform, doubtless to save appearances.

THERE is a printers' strike in Brooklyn, and the papers are got out by amateur printers.

THE Australians export large quantities of condensed meat to England.

RICHMOND, VA.

Congressional Committee—Political Excitement—Petersburg Nominations.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, October 17.—The Congressional Committee to investigate the affairs of Southern Railroads have arrived.

The political excitement is on the increase. The Conservatives are working with much energy, and everything indicates that there will be an exciting election and a full vote polled. The ticket headed by Marmaduke Johnson will be voted for by the Conservatives, but two tickets will be run, the Conservative movement uniting with the Republican.

A meeting of Conservatives last night in Petersburg nominated Daniel May and J. R. Williamson for the Convention, in opposition to the Radical ticket. There was a large assemblage, and much enthusiasm prevailed.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 17.—General Canby has fixed the 19th and 20th of November as the days for holding the election for Delegates to the Convention.

GARIBALDI'S SON, in a speech in London, said: "Had it not been for the English people we would not have succeeded in the expedition of 1860. I might have had now to lament my father, and I should not have been here, perhaps, to thank you, not only in his name, but in the name of all my countrymen. (Cheers.) You have raised a great land, I say it though I am an Italian—a land that has had a great ancient history, a great history in the middle ages, and will have a great history in the future, when it has cast aside the incubus that weighs upon it—the Papacy. We were unfortunate in the choice of our King. My father in 1860 called him Ilregalantuomo. I do not know my father's thoughts on the subject, but I do know that every Italian thinks my father made a mistake at that moment.

—The Findley Jeffersonian says: An old man, named Slater, 100 years of age, residing a couple miles west of town, came in last Tuesday, and cast his ballot for the Union candidates.

FRANCE.

THE ROMAN QUESTION—THE EMPEROR IN COUNCIL—RESOLUTION TO INTERFERE.

PARIS, October 17.—A. M.—Just before the departure of the Emperor from Biarratz, on his return to Paris, he summoned a general council of the Cabinet to meet him at St. Cloud, to consider the condition of affairs in Italy, and decide what action France would take in the matter. The council was held yesterday, the Emperor presiding. The result of the deliberation was a resolution that France should immediately interfere for the settlement of the Roman question, but without action any longer in conjunction with the Italian government to that end.

The Moniteur yesterday, in a leading editorial, reproached the Italian Government for violating the laws of nations, disregarding the obligations of solemn treaties, and fostering a dangerous spirit of republicanism in Italy.

The Moniteur, in its issue this morning, asserts that the inhabitants of the City of Rome and Papal Provinces are loyal to the Pope, and only need assistance to drive the Italian invaders from the soil.

EFFECT OF SUPPOSED INTERVENTION.

Owing to the continuation of the disturbance in Italy, and the prospect of French intervention, financial depression on the Bourse increases, and rentes are steadily declining.

INTERVENTION NECESSARY FOR THE SAFETY OF ITALY.

PARIS, October 17—Evening.—The Patrie this evening contains an editorial arguing that the intervention of France is necessary to save Italy from revolution and anarchy.

DECREASE IN SPECIE.

The specie in the Bank of France decreased 4,000,000 francs during the past week. Rentes still falling and Bourse much depressed.

ITALY.

GARIBALDIANS ENTRENCHED IN PAPAL TERRITORY.

FLORENCE, October 17.—The news from the South continues favorable to the party of action.

The Garibaldians have taken possession of the town of Nerola, in the Papal States, where they have entrenched themselves, and await the arrival of other bands to increase their numbers sufficiently to enable them to make a further advance. Signor Arcobia, one of the Deputies of the Italian Parliament, is Commander in Chief of the insurgents in that quarter of the Roman territory.

FLORENCE, October 17.—Reports are hourly received of skirmishes and fights between the Papal troops and Garibaldians, but the accounts are conflicting, and it is difficult to say which side has been most successful in these encounters.

AUSTRIA.

ADDRESS OF BISHOPS OF THE EMPIRE.

VIENNA, October 17.—The Emperor has referred to the Council of Ministers, for their consideration, an address received by his Majesty from a congregation of Roman Catholic Bishops of the Austrian Empire, recently assembled here. The address protests against the adoption of a new Concordat, and strongly urges the Emperor not to make any revision in the sacred treaty now established between Austria and Rome.

In a communication to the Ministerial Council, the Emperor reproves the Austrian Bishops for adopting a paper so liable to create public excitement, at a time when tranquility is necessary for the restoration of the country, and takes occasion to remind them that the Emperor of Austria is a Constitutional Prince, as well as a true son of the Church.

ORGANIC LAW PASSED.

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—Evening.—The Reichsrath to-day passed the organic law, under consideration since the beginning of the present session. This measure makes legal many new reforms introduced in the government of the Empire.

The announcement of the reply made by the Emperor to the address of the Bishops, in regard to the Concordat, was received with prolonged cheering in the Reichsrath.

ENGLAND.

THE TIMES ON THE ROMAN QUESTION.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The Times contains a long editorial about the Roman situation. It says Prime Minister Rattazzi must order the national troops to Rome, and anticipates the arrival there of both the volunteers of Garibaldi and the regular troops of France. The article concludes by declaring that the boldest policy is best for Italy, and advising her to seize Rome and then treat with France.

COL. KELLY, THE ESCAPED FENIAN.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Certain evidence has come into the hands of the Metropolitan police authorities, inducing the belief that Col. Kelly, who was rescued from the prisoners' van at Manchester, has not left the country, but is now in the city, and the detective force is actively engaged in endeavoring to discover his whereabouts.

THE FENIAN ALARM KEPT UP.

LONDON, October 17—Evening.—New rumors, some absurd, are in circulation, and keep up the alarm about the Fenians. The government, however, rather increases its precautions against any disturbance or outbreak, especially in Scotland.

SOUTH AMERICAN WAR.

BRAZILIANS DISCONCERTED—PEACE PARTY IN THE ASCENDANCY.

LISBON, Oct. 17.—The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived. The last advices received at Rio Janeiro, from Parana, were unfavorable. No movement had been made, and no preparations were making for an attack by the land forces. The allies under General Mitier were lying idle before the Paraguayans, and the Argentine and Brazilian fleets were hemmed in by the guns of Lopez and compelled to remain inactive. The Brazilians were greatly disconcerted with the conduct of the war, and the peace party was in the ascendancy in all the States bordering on the Rio de La Platta.

It was reported that Gen. Urquisa was dead.

ARRIVED OUT.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 17.—The steamship Baltic, from New York on the 1st inst., arrived here to-day, and after loading London passengers, mails and freight sailed for Bremen.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 17.—The steamship Java, from Boston on the 9th, touched, and subsequently proceeded to Liverpool.

The cause of the riot is unknown. For a short time great excitement prevailed, but a large police force, which was soon on the ground, prevented further disturbance. The city is now quiet.

Copelin go into the directory under the terms of purchase, and Eli Fox, of St. Louis, has been elected temporary President. The bonds of the Company net seventy-seven and a half cents.

Strict quarantine has been established below Cairo.

Thousands of people are said to be fleeing from Memphis in consequence of the yellow fever. Large numbers of them have arrived at and passed through Cairo.

MAN-HORSE RACE.

Wager of a Man to Run Five Miles While a Horse Trots Ten Miles—The Man Gives Out and the Horse Don't.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, October 17.—The race between James Griffin, pedestrian, and the noted trotter, Captain Magowan, for two thousand dollars, came off at Mystic Park to-day. The horse was to trot ten miles while the man ran five miles. There was a large crowd present. The start took place at half-past four. From the commencement the horse began to gain on the man, and from the commencement of his fourth mile, when the horse had made six and a half miles, Griffin dropped down from exhaustion and gave in. The horse finished his ten miles in 30:00. Griffin made his first mile in 6:28½, second in 6:06½, third in 6:12. But little money was lost on Griffin, time being the favorite from ten to eighty.

Daring Robbery.

Wednesday afternoon a man named Harbaugh was robbed of his watch, valued at $60, and some two dollars in change, under the following circumstances: Harbaugh, was, he says, stopping at a hotel on Grant street, and after dinner he went up to his room to indulge a few moments in "Tired Nature's Sweet Restorer." The room was occupied by another person at the time. When Harbaugh awoke, his watch and about two dollars, which was in his vest pocket, were missing; his companion had also disappeared. Harbaugh called at the Mayor's office and stated the above facts, whereupon the police force went forth to make the arrest of the party against whom information had been made. Officers Cupples and Rigley had the case in hand, and yesterday evening, through the honesty of a pawn broker, in the Fifth ward, found the watch, and also a clue to the thief, who proved to be Tom Smith. Last night they ascertained that Tom was in Allegheny, and on going there found him on Federal street, near the Fairhill Station. He was taken in charge, and came quietly until about half way across the bridge, when he made a desperate effort to escape, but it was "no go;" the officers knew their man and had provided for emergencies. He was conveyed to the lockup, where he was searched, and a pawn ticket found in his pocket for the watch that had been stolen. He will have a hearing to-day.

The Steubenville Female Seminary.

Perhaps there is no obligation on parents so important as the education of daughters. Out of the number of excellent colleges and academies claiming preference it is difficult to make choice. If we may be permitted to intrude our advice we unhesitatingly commend, in the highest terms, the Steubenville Female College as an educational institution worthy of confidence and encouragement. It has the advantage of location, being situated on one of the prettiest and most fascinating spots on the Ohio river, in the quiet town of Steubenville. The college building is large and admirably adapted for boarding school purposes; while the faculty of instruction embraces a number of highly successful and experienced educators. The terms of tuition have recently been reduced, as will be observed by reference to the advertisement in another column. A recent visit to the Seminary, during which we had an inspection of its various departments and classrooms, and an examination into its educational system, warrants us in commending this institution in no hesitating terms to those who are desirous that their daughters and wards shall receive liberal education and high moral training. This Principal, Rev. A. M. Reed, A. M., will furnish all necessary information to those who address him at Steubenville, Ohio.

Hearing of the Alleged Shooters.

John B. Wright and George W. Walters, arrested at the Union Depot, charged with passing counterfeit money in Johnstown, were before U. S. Commissioner McCandless yesterday, for a hearing. They had been in Johnstown several days last week, but left there on Saturday night. As soon as their departure was known a telegram was sent to the officers on duty at the Union Depot, giving a description of them and directing their arrest. As soon as the train arrived at the depot the officers took them in the sleeping coach and took them in custody. On the way to the lock-up one of them was observed to throw away a small roll, which was recovered and proved to be twenty-four ten dollar counterfeit notes. The prisoners were subsequently searched, and several sums of money, fractional parts of ten dollars, found in their possession. The accused were held for trial.

Kane's Petroleum Soap.

We are indebted to our friend W. W. Wallace, Esq., for several specimens of the now almost universally adopted Kane's Petroleum Soap, which is extensively manufactured by the Chemical Manufacturing Company, whose office is located at No. 119 Fourth street. The soap we have tested and find it of a very superior quality, accomplishing even more than is represented. The Aromatic Petroleum Soap rivals Colgate's finest, and is exceedingly efficacious in curing sores, cuts and wounds, while as a shaving soap it is without an equal. The use will effect cures of tetter, skin diseases and chapped hands, and will leave the skin soft and smooth. Dealers who have not yet introduced this great soap should give it a trial.

Fire in Allegheny.

A fire occurred in Snyder's Hollow, Allegheny city, on Wednesday morning, which destroyed several houses. It originated in the house of a colored man named Washington, a two story frame, valued at $500, which was burned to the ground. A two story frame house belonging to Mrs. Susan Gallaher, valued at $700 was also totally destroyed. There was no insurance on either of the above buildings. The house of Joseph Apferman, a two story frame, on which there was $500 insurance, was also burned. There was $200 insurance on the furniture of Mr. Apferman, about one half of which was saved. The furniture in both the other buildings was all destroyed. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Fatal Accident—Inquest.

A distressing accident occurred at the Standard Oil Works yesterday morning, which resulted in the death of John McCracken, a resident of Sharpsburg. The deceased was employed by the parties who were using the tank at the oil works mentioned, and having covered it on Wednesday evening, was in the act of removing the cover on Thursday morning, when he accidentally fell in and was drowned, before assistance could reach him. The body was taken out and removed to Sharpsburg, where Coroner Clawson held an inquest upon it. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts above stated. The deceased was a married man, about forty-eight years of age, and leaves a wife and several children.

EDITORIAL GLEANINGS.

Tux mania for button collecting seems to have extended all over the country, and our exchanges from all parts mention and wonder at it. We cannot explain the meaning of it, but it is merely the latest branch of that mania for collecting things which children have, in common with magpies. Coins were once in fashion; postage stamps had their day; shells, pebbles, butterflies and beetles, have all been at one time or another the rage among children. But the most hopeless task of all was that of a boy who had a collection of several hundred business cards, of various firms; he was afraid, he said, that he would not be able to get a complete set, but he intended to try.

The city of Strasbourg, the Mecca of architects and gourmands, is to be fortified. The engineer and the artillerist are to take the places of the professors of cookery, or to divide them with them. With what delight a gormandizing soldier of France must greet his order to Strasbourg! With what visions of pate de fois gras his stomach will teem. Strasbourg has a reputation for her cathedral, which is cast into the shade only by that of her goose-liver pastries.

A Philadelphia teacher has abolished school readers for his upper classes and introduced newspapers in their stead. This is an excellent idea, as it will give the elder children a chance to read and have explained to them the topics of interest of the day. Care should be taken, however, in the free schools where this course is adopted, not to attempt to bring politics into the lesson. In private schools, of course the teacher could use his own judgment as to the expediency of such a course.

Mr. Maretzek has met with success in his latest operatic enterprise in New York. He has new artists, so that the absence of Miss Kellogg is more sorrowed over than felt, and he has produced heavy standard works, almost to the exclusion of the light ones in which Miss Kellogg was so charming. The New York press speak in high terms, individually, of the artists, and of the troupe as a whole.

A rather curious distinction was made, recently, at the grand review at Cheltenham, England, between married and single men. At the conclusion of the ceremony the Commander-in-Chief, H. R. H., the Duke of Cambridge, ordered a pint of porter to be issued to each man, and an additional half pint to each married man. Whether their wives were officially supposed to be present, or the additional beer was offered as premium for marriage, our informant does not say.

Mr. Peter Cooper and a few more honest citizens are still waging war against the outragous corruption of the city officials of New York. It would be well if they could make it a war of extermination; but the enemy is very strong, and like most animals when brought to bay, very savage.

At a meeting of the Manufacturers' Association of Detroit, on Monday, it was resolved: "That a committee of five be appointed" to correspond with similar Associations in other cities, asking their co-operation in providing for the holding of a National Convention in some central city, during the coming month of December, and Pittsburgh was suggested as the most favorable place. The resolution and the suggestion were both adopted.

The Detroit Tribune has discovered a new use for Democratic victories. We quote:

"An occasional Democratic triumph at the polls is useful for historical purposes. Such an event invariably corrects the general public impression that a large number of men are dead and buried, inasmuch as they emerge from their hiding places and make speeches."

The Tribune quotes General Frank Pierce as a case in point, and there are many others equally available.

A boy, six years old, fell into the mud at Dock Street Wharf, Philadelphia, the other day, and although almost immediately pulled out, he was found to be quite dead, smothered by the mud. If the season had been as dry there, as here, the boy would probably have fallen into the dust only and still be alive.

We noticed, lately, that a prominent Philadelphia physician had been victimized by an expert sneak-thief; since then several other physicians have fallen into the same trap, until yesterday, when one of the profession proved too sharp for the thief and had him arrested. He proves to be a negro, and confesses to having been the perpetrator of the other similar larcenies.

Great Britain now contains thirty millions of people, an increase of two and a half millions since 1852, and during the time she has furnished three millions of emigrants to this country, Australia, and other portions of the globe. During the last fifteen years Ireland has decreased her population nearly eight hundred thousand.

A law suit has just been decided in Albany, New York, which was begun in 1827. It involved a right of dower, and if the widow has lived to get it she must have been young when it began.

A drunken woman fell over a precipice fifty feet high in the suburbs of Cincinnati, into a deserted stone quarry, and her remains were found shockingly mangled. They were not identified.

The New York Herald has dropped the names of James Gordon Bennett and Junior.

POLITICAL.

Philadelphia Republicans propese to change the plan of nominating candidates to the "Crawford County System," which takes a direct vote of the party on every nomination.

A Washington special to the Pittsburgh Post informs those who wish to know, that some one asked his Exceeding Mightiness, Andrew Johnson, of "his course should the Radicals attempt to depose him before trial, he said, 'I will resist, sir, with all the powers which the Constitution furnishes for its own protection and preservation.' This was said with great warmth and earnestness. It would be criminal, he said, not to resist an effort on the part of Congress, to usurp or destroy the Executive Department, and he thought it well for the country to know his opinion and his purpose."

Before election, he took frequent opportunity to deny the statement that he would resort to force to resist impeachment, but he appears to have reconsidered his position after its "endorsement" by the people. General Sherman is to be with him between the 10th and 17th, "in ample time for the discharge of any duty, however responsible, which may devolve on him."

The Memphis Avalanche says "the country can now breath more freely" when the elections indicate a speedy return of "the true men of the South" to their old places in the Government.

The Chicago Tribune argues in favor of the repeal of the Cotton tax license. The cotton cannot be sold until the tax is paid, and that it is thus kept out of market.

GENERAL NEWS.

—The New York hotels are full. The Fifth Avenue has refused 200 applications daily for the last six weeks, because of a lack of room.

—The Italians of Louisville celebrated the 375th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, in grand style, on last Saturday.

—A son of Douglas Jerrold, the great British humorist, is following the art of wood engraving in New Orleans. He is said to possess fine talents.

—A large, muscular Irishman, in a party crossing the Rocky Mountains, lately left his companions to chase a grizzly. He was afterwards found torn into ribbons, and the bear lying dead a few yards distant pierced with six bullets.

—The largest turbine water-wheel ever made in America is being built for the Fairmount Water Works of Philadelphia. Its diameter is ten feet three inches; weight, including the gearing, &c., about two hundred thousand pounds.

—A young Englishman of wealth and culture recently fell in love with a squaw in Omaha, Kansas, and married her. The next day she got drunk and turned somersaults in the street. Johannes Taurus is at a loss to know what to do under the circumstances.

—"I saw a lady wrapped up in a shawl that she would not take six hundred dollars for," said Smith to Jones. "I can beat that all hollow," retorted Jones; "for I saw a lady that was so wrapped up in her baby that she wouldn't have taken six hundred thousand dollars for it."

—A terrible tragedy occurred at Eaton, Ohio, on Monday night. During a fight in French's circus, between some members of the company and a party of roughs, a young lady named Campbell, a spectator, was shot dead by one of the latter party. The murderer was captured and is now in jail. The shot was aimed at the ringmaster.

—A good story is told at the expense of a belle upon one of the boats which cross Lake Erie. She had risen in the morning and had commenced dressing—in the ladies' cabin, of course. Observing the door to be partially open, she ran against it with all her force to close it, supposing it to open and shut on the inner side. It was just the reverse, however, and her astonishment may be imaged at finding herself running half way down the main cabin into a crowd of gentlemen before she could abate her speed.

—The British Consul at Fernando Po writes to Dr. Hooker, of the Royal Society: "It may interest you to hear that the Cameroons Mountain is again in a state of active eruption. On the night of the 15th instant the lava seemed to rush with tremendous force out of the east side a few hundred feet from the top, then pour over in a grand cataract of fire and flow off east-southeast in a crooked fiery stream down the mountain side. The molten lava poured out from sunset, when it was first seen, till after midnight, increasing in volume. Clouds obscured the mountain next morning, but it has been seen burning thrice since. It is apparently quiet now. There was no thunder for several days preceding, but we had a gale of wind from the east-northeast—an unusual direction—coming an hour before sunset on the 14th inst. a tornado, in fact, without thunder or rain, except a few drops."

KENTUCKY ITEMS.

A portion of the Presbyterian congregation of Lexington has taken out an injunction to prevent the pastor using the church.

As William Junkins was returning home from Louisville, where he had been to sell his crop of corn, he was shot by some unknown parties and received several buck balls in his side, and lies in a very critical condition.

Gov. Stevenson has ordered Generals Wolford and Sneed to raise a military force and place it under the command of the Sheriff of Lebanon county, to suppress any armed force that may oppose the execution of the civil law.

A negro boy named Maxy McNairy went out on a hunting excursion on Wednesday last, near Henderson, and upon discharging his gun it burst, when some fragments of iron penetrated his breast, causing his death in a short time.

Messrs Jones & Metcalf, of Hopkinsville, fought a few days ago, used firearms freely, wounded each other seriously, and Mr. Jones has died of his wounds, but the Conservative, which notes this little occurrence, has not learned the cause.

Frightful Death.—On Monday evening at half-past six o'clock a train ran over and horribly mangled a young lady. The Louisville Democrat says: "She was instantly killed, and as yet no one has recognized the unfortunate woman. She was neatly attired, and her form and features bore evidences of refinement. What could have been her errand at that hour of the evening on the railroad track is an unfathomable mystery. It may be that a tale of crime will yet be evolved from the affair. She was of medium stature, small head, fair skin and brown hair. She was dressed in a white and brown plaid gingham; wore a chip hat of white and black, trimmed with a black ribbon and blue stripes and ornamented with blue roses; had on blue veil and white apron; a dark woolen shawl with black centre and broad figured border, and lasting gaiters. On her hands were two small gold rings and one of jet. She wore a pair of brown kid gloves. The deceased was probably eighteen years of age.

CHOLERA! CHOLERA!

With the almost certain advent of Cholera, no thoughtful person will be unprepared for it. Secure what experience has demonstrated to be the most certain antidote—that which has cured once will cure again, and never purchase a new and untried article, when an OLD AND RELIABLE ARTICLE can be had. When the cholera visited us on two former occasions, it was found by experience that

FLEMING'S CHOLERA MIXTURE

Was the best, and superseded all others, therefore it stands to reason that, if you would have an article that you can depend on, you should purchase it to the exclusion of all others.

AN AUTUMN SUGGESTION.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the cholera infantile makes its appearance, we would admonish mothers in this section of the Union to be in that state of preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the pernicious staple, will not—will not be the disease which at present pervades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for the remedy (so-called,) is dead for than the malady. But if quinine is inefficient as a befriender of fevers, Hostetter's Bitters is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any given "Fever-an-Ague District" should be exempted from the disorder for any particular time, provided they thoroughly availed themselves of Hostetter's according to direc tions, during the term of his contract. There has never been an instance in which this stirling American and soul-saving medicine has failed to ward off the complaint, when taken as a preventive against miasmata. Hundreds of physicians have made and still continue to make it and our praise both a harmless and agreeable one, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of ephitic and dyspeptic disease. The most splendid testimonials, and letters of the highest character, and in great numbers, attest its virtues, and it is the safest, surest and most wholesome strengthener in preparation that human skill has yet offered to the world.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on Dr. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever gaining her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

This Court met Thursday at the usual hour. The following cases were disposed of during the day:

NOT GUILTY.

In the case of John J. K. R. Braden, colored, indicted for procuring the escape from the county jail of a negro named Lucas, confined for horse stealing, the Jury found a verdict of not guilty, defendant to pay the costs.

OFFICER CONVICTED OF LARCENY.

James Brown and C. H. Simmons, jointly indicted with Levi Upton (tried and convicted yesterday) for the larceny of shoes from the store of Palmer, Anshutz & Co., Market street, were placed on trial. This case was rather a singular one, with reference to the defense set up. Upton was employed at the store, and on the evening of the 28th of July last (Sunday) he was there discovered, in company with Brown and Simmons, handling the goods. They had the gas lighted, but upon being discovered, extinguished the light. It was in evidence that Brown had been at the store on previous occasions with Upton, at a late hour in the night, and that on Sunday, the 28th of July, Simmons had been at the store two or three times, and was seen to carry away bundles. Brown, who is a deputized constable, alleged he was "putting up a job." He was discovered in the act of trying on a pair of boots, and stated at the time he was arrested that he intended purchasing them.

For the defense, John Brown, tavern-keeper in Diamond alley, and father of the defendant Brown, testified that Upton had boarded with him, and owed him money. Subsequently, having obtained employment at the store of Palmer, Anshutz & Co., he came to the tavern of witness, with shoes, which he gave in partial payment of his indebtedness. Witness said his suspicion was excited that Upton did not come honestly by the shoes he was bringing to the house, and suggested to defendants to watch him. The next thing witness heard concerning the matter was the arrest of his son and Simmons, together with Upton.

The defense set up was that although the circumstances were suspicious, and a "talking and carrying away" had been proven, the intention of defendants was not criminal, as they were acting with a view of exposing the dishonesty of Upton, who they were led to believe had been for some time taking goods from the store. The offer to prove such "intention" on the part of the defendants, by their declarations, was objected to, and the objection sustained, the Court holding that it would be a dangerous rule to establish, to allow parties charged with larceny opportunity to excuse themselves by representing that they were acting as officers, did not intend to steal, and designed to entrap some one else. Such might have been the intention of the defendants, and the jury would judge concerning from the evidence adduced. If the design was as stated, the Court could not wish to hear of any more such kind of cases. It was a queer way for officers to discharge their duties, to act as thieves.

The case went to the jury, and after about an hour's deliberation a verdict of guilty was rendered. Sentence deferred, and the bail of defendants increased from $500 to $1,000 each.

CLOTHING THIEVES.

John Kelly, Michael Dunn and C. Ingram, boys, were placed on trial for stealing clothing from the store of James Clothier, corner of Fifth and Liberty street, in August last. The larceny was committed during the absence of the proprietor at supper, the store being entered by a duplicate key. A witness testified to having seen the boys near the store under suspicious circumstances; that two sat on the steps, while the third went into the store, and a fourth stood on the opposite side of the street; that when the one who went into the store came out, a signal was given, when the four went away in the same direction. But three (those on trial) were arrested. On the way to the tombs, Dunn, one of the defendants, dropped a key, which was picked up by officer Moon and found to unlock the door of Mr. Clothier's store. The jury gave a verdict of guilty as to all of the defendants. Sentence deferred till to-morrow.

UNDER LIVERY STABLE ACT.

Finley Graham was indicted (under the Livery Stable Act) for misdemeanor in damaging a horse and buggy hired from Roland T. White, of Allegheny, to the extent of twenty dollars. Defendant obtained the horse and buggy to go to a funeral, but it appeared used them for an entirely different purpose, having driven to various places and in different directions, causing the damage complained of. On trial.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

THURSDAY, Oct. 17.—In the case of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway vs. C. S. Shaffer et. el., the jury rendered a verdict for defendants.

Jas. Logan vs. W. S. Jackson. Action to recover for plastering work, defendant having disputed plaintiff's bill. Verdict for plaintiff for $107,62.

Charles Knapp and C. B. Powden, vs. J. Charles Dicken. Attachment. Dismissed. Merbitz. Execution attachment. Some $800 in the hands of plaintiff is attached to satisfy judgments of the plaintiffs. The money was paid to plaintiff on an execution against Merbitz, at the suit of Moritz Newark, and it is contended that the judgment was fraudulent. On trial.

Following is the trial list for this day:

12. Fawcett & Co. vs. Lanahan.

SURETY OF THE PEACE.

William Printy made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, against Charles and Frank Miller and Andrew Mangle for surety of the peace. The parties reside on Water street near the Point, and Printy alleges that they threatened to do him bodily harm.

Maggie Printy, at the same time and place, made information against Kate Mangle for surety of the peace. It appears that the Printys occupy a house near where the defendants in the above cases reside, of which the defendants wish to get possession, and are therefore subjecting the prosecutors to all the petty annoyances imaginable for the purpose of clearing them out. Failing in this, they have attempted to frighten them away by threats. Warrants were issued.

Anthony Dangherty made information yesterday before Alderman Strain against Henry Godfrey, for surety of the peace. The prosecutor alleges that the defendant threatened to take his life. Godfrey was arrested and held for a hearing.

Mrs. Carr made information before the same Alderman, against Mrs. Teddish, for surety of the peace. The parties, it appears, occupy houses in a court off Harrison street, and have a bake oven which is considered as the common property of all the tenants in the court. It was about the use of the oven that the difficulty originated. Mrs. Carr alleges that she wanted to use the bake oven, and that the defendant had wood in it; that when she attempted to remove the wood, she (Mrs. Teddish) threatened to strike her. Several witnesses were examined, the case argued at length by counsel, and finally dismissed at the cost of the defendant.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Gertrude Och made information before Justice Lipp, of East Birmingham, yesterday, against William McCullough, charging him with assault and battery. Mrs. Och, it appears, keeps a saloon in Birmingham, where drinks are served out to her thirsty customers. She alleges that McCullough owed her a small bill, and that he came into her saloon and asked her for another drink, when she informed him that he could not get any more drinks until he had settled the old "score." This it appears aggravated him to a considerable extent, and, as she alleges, he struck her with his fist and knocked her down. A warrant was issued, the defendant arrested, and after a hearing he was held in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at Court.

Michael Morion yesterday appeared before Alderman Taylor and made information against the conductor on car No. 9, Citizens Passenger Railway, charging him with assault and battery. He alleges that the conductor threw him off the car because he was a "Dimmycrat." There is most probably another side to this story, and we think, from the appearance of the man, that he was put off for having very strong "pronouncitory symptoms" of Democracy about him, as he had evidently swallowed small potations of the "spirit" of that party. A warrant was issued for the conductor.

LARCENY BY BAILEE.

John G. Brown, Clerk of Quarter Sessions, yesterday made information before Alderman Strain, against Hugh Fitzpatrick, charging him with larceny by bailee. Fitzpatrick is a jeweler, and the prosecutor alleges that some time since he left a gold pen with the defendant for the purpose of having it repaired, and that now the defendant refused to return the pen. A warrant was issued.

A New Post of the G. A. R., No. 88, was instituted at Manchester, Wednesday evening, by District Commander Mentooth. Some thirty members were mustered, and at an election for officers, Abram Patterson was elected Post Commandant. A detachment of over fifty members were present, accompanied by the band attached to Post No. 35. The occasion was an interesting one. Addresses were made by Gens. Pearson and Barnes, Capt. J. R. Oxley, John G. Brown, Col. D. L. Smith, J. S. Edgar, John Kerr and others.

A "Shop Lifter" Committed.—Nancey Patton, whose arrest, on a charge of "shop lifting," we noticed yesterday, had a hearing last evening, and in default of the required bail, was committed for trial.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Committed for Trial.—John B. Wright and George W. Waters, who were arrested Sunday morning on a charge of "shoving" counterfeit money, had a hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner McCandless. Several witnesses from Johnstown were present, and upon examination identified the prisoners as the parties who had passed counterfeit $10 bills upon them, and presented the bills. The parties waived a further hearing, and in default of bail were committed for trial.

Leg Broken.—George English, a little boy, who resides with his parents in the Ninth ward, was in company with some other boys playing on the bank of the Allegheny, yesterday. They took a large plank, put it on a large iron kettle, and while see-sawing upon it, the plank fell off the kettle upon English's leg, causing a compound fracture just below the knee joint. He was conveyed to his home, where the fracture was reduced by a surgeon.

Lecture.—Prof. W. D. Henkle, of Ohio, will deliver a lecture before the Educational Association of Western Pennsylvania, Saturday, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the hall of the Fourth ward School House, Pittsburgh. Prof. Henkle is said to be an able man, and his lecture will doubtless prove interesting to the friends of education.

Crushed to Death.—Tuesday evening, Allen King, while engaged in tearing down the old Plum Creek church, near New Texas, in this county, was crushed to death by the wall falling upon him. The deceased was a member of the church, and highly respected in the community where he resided.

Robbed in Wheeling.—Mr. Alexander Reed, of Parkersburg, who had been staying at Wheeling for a few days, was robbed there on Wednesday night, at the Sprigg House, of $1,250, the money being taken from his pantaloons pocket, in the room in which he was sleeping.

Child Drowned.—Yesterday afternoon a child, about four years of age, while playing near Bellefontaine street, Lawrenceville, fell into a pool of water and was drowned. We were unable to learn the name.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

OHIO.

—An Alliance correspondent says: Once in a while we are called upon to mourn the loss of a brother soldier. We performed the same painful duty to-day. Aaron Whitacre, late of the 16th Independent Battery, was mortally wounded on the 9th inst., at Atwater, on the local freight train. The accident was one of that kind in which there cannot properly be any blame attached to any one. The funeral was conducted by members of the "Grand Army of the Republic." Fully 2,000 people were present. The o ffin was taken into the Disciple's Church, where Rev. A. B. Way delivered an address of some length, warning them to be prepared for the change which awaits us all.

—The Cleveland Herald says: A letter from Stark county, in explaining how the Democracy carried that county, says: "In Stark county every man was visited, whether he could vote or not." Republicans would do well to take a leaf from the Democratic book in this particular. If a man does not vote, he may influence the vote of another man. In future, leave no stone unturned.

—A little girl of six years, daughter of a Mr. David Atkinson, lost her life at the house of a relative, some four or five miles back of Bridgeport, Ohio, by a singular fatality. It seems that a wagon was standing in front of the house, on sloping ground, and had been "chocked" or propped to keep it from running down the hill. In playing about the wagon, the prop was knocked out and the wagon ran down the hill. The child was knocked down and run over, a wheel passing over the neck, just at the base of the brain, killing her instantly.

—Berezowski, who attempted to assassinate the Czar, has just arrived at Toulon, and been assigned his place among the mass of hardened criminals who are usually collected at this French penal establishment. As soon as he arrived, he was clad in the vile vest common to all galley slaves, with the green cap worn only by those condemned for life. He was the first of the gang to which he was attached called upon to receive the chain of infamy, which he is also condemned to wear always. The larger ring is placed around the ankle, to which a heavy chain is riveted by a smith. He, with a number of other criminal's, will embark in a few days for the French Botany Bay, New Caledonia.

—The recent discovery of a large deposit of animal and shell marl in Prince George's county, Maryland, turns out, upon careful analysis, to be of greater value as a fertilizer than any other marls. In fact, it is asserted by competent judges to equal the best grades of guano, and very extensive preparations are being rapidly perfected by the owners of the property in the Maryland Marine Marl Company of Washington, to commence trade in the article. The remains of immense sea turtle and other leviathans of the deep have been exhumed, as well as vast quantities of shells of a hitherto rare and comparatively unknown species.

—The Pacific Railway Directors, it is reported, have resolved to use petroleum as a fuel for their locomotives. The coal discoveries reported on the line of that road may be exaggerated; but even if correct, it will require time to work them properly, and a settlement of the Indian troubles, so that mining operations will be safe. It is represented that one locomotive can carry sufficient petroleum, without infringing on the room necessary for freight and passengers, to keep up steam for a run of a thousand miles.

BALLOONING in the Paraguayan war does not seem to be any more successful as a means of gaining information of the enemy's movements than it war during our war. It is recorded that in the Brazilian army a balloon has made several ascensions without any result whatever. Each time the balloon ascended Marshal Lopez, the Paraguayan commander, made a great fire, which covered his camp with a cloud of smoke, and thus prevented the Allies from seeing what passed there.

—At Sebastopol, the English burial grounds of soldiers that fell during the Crimean war extend over forty miles of country, and are one hundred and forty in number, but are falling into decay. The graveyards are said to be so overrun with weeds and brambles that many tombs are no longer visible. They are under the superintendence of the British Consul at Kertch, and there is a general demand in the British papers that they shall be better taken care of.

—Levi Silliman Ives, formerly the Protestant Episcopal Bishop of North Carolina, and an eminent philanthropist, died at his residence, near New York, on Sunday, aged 71. Bishop Ives was some years ago converted to the Catholic faith, when his ministry in the Episcopal Church ceased. At the time of his death he was President of the "Society for the Protection of Destitute Catholic Children," in New York.

—It is represented that the liberated Russian serfs all over the kingdom are making good use of their liberty, and rapidly rising in the scale of human existence. The masters, though at first dissatisfied with the Imperial Ukase, are becoming convinced of its justice and wisdom, and master and slave now live together upon harmonious terms, as freemen.

—The residence of Mr. J. Smith, Newark, was visited by burglars on Thursday night. They gained access to the bedroom in which Mr. Smith was sleeping, and after thoroughly ransacking a pair of pantaloons into the rear yard, and after taking out a large sum of money, left them there.

SCIENTIFIC AND STATISTICAL.

—The French Academy of Sciences has lately received from Richter two specimens of the new metal called indium. They are prisms about four inches long; their section is that of a trapezium, with a height of half an inch, and with bases respectively half an inch and three quarters of an inch in breadth.

A scientific paper remarks that sulphate of zinc or white vitriol may be prepared either by dissolving the metal in sulphuric acid, or more economically, by roasting the native sulphide or blende, which by absorbing oxygen during the progress, becomes in a great measure converted into a sulphate of the oxide. When the former method is employed—as it generally is on a small scale and in the laboratory—a compound precipitate is obtained containing traces of indium.

M. Richer is the first who has succeeded in isolating this metal. It is analogous to cadmium, but is certainly a new metal. The spectrum of indium is distinguished by a brilliant indigo ray; its color, smell, and other properties somewhat resemble those of tin, to which cadmium also bears a resemblance, but is rather harder. The two specimens are of exceeding purity, and M. Richer estimates their total value at more than three thousand eight hundred dollars.

—A workman employed in a Connecticut clock factory has invented a timepiece which is, in appearance, like a long thermometer, without the bulb of mercury at the bottom. It has a glass tube about three-eighths of an inch in diameter, and the length of the thermometer-like frame; this tube is secured to the frame by two bands, through which the tube easily slides. Inside of the tube is another smaller glass tube, at each end of which is a portion of mercury and a scrap of blotting paper, or other absorbent material, for the purpose of absorbing any damp which might find its way into the tube.

About an inch and a half from each end of the inner tube is a small throat, through which the mercury has to pass. On each side of the glass tube are the divisions of time. The mercury in the top end of the tube is placed opposite the proper time, and it descends to the bottom of the tube exactly as the time lapses. When the mercury has reached the bottom of the tube, the frame can be turned and the mercury set to the same time on the other side; and so the time may be continually indicated. It is a sort of perpetual hour glass.

—A very erroneous idea is indulged in by many people, in relation to the largest city in the world; many confidently assert that London is farsuperior, both in size and the number of its inhabitants. But such is not the case. Jeddo, the capital of Japan, is, without exception, the largest and most populous city in the world. It contains the vast number of 1,500,000 dwelling, and 5,000,000 of human souls. Many of the streets are 19 japaneseries in length, which is equivalent to 22 English miles. The commerce of Jeddo far exceeds that of any other city in the world, and the sea along the coast is constantly white with sails of ships. Their vessels sail to the southern portion of the Empire, where they are laden with rice, tea, seconl, to ace, silk, cotton, and various tropical fruits, all of which can find ready market in the north, and then return, freighted with corn, salt, isinglass, and various other products which have a market in the south.

POPULATION OF THE EARTH.—In the first volume of Dr. Behm's "Geographical Annual," lately published at Gotha, there is an interesting article on the population of the earth. This was estimated by Busching in 1787 at 1,000,000,000, by Fabri and Stein in 1800 at 9,000,000,000, by Horschelmann in 1833 at 872,000,000, by Dieterict in 1858 at 1,288,000,000, and by Kelb in 1865 at 1,220,000,000. Dr. Behm estimates it at 1,350,000,000, thus distributed: Europe, 285,000,000; Asia, 795,800,000; Australia and Polynesia, 3,850,000; Africa, 188,000,000; and America 74,500,000. At the same time he acknowledges that it is impossible to arrive at anything more than an approximate notion of the population in Asia and Africa, there being no census or other accurate means of ascertaining the number of inhabitants in those continents.

—It is announced that to such wonderful extent has the engraving of test objects for microscopes been carried, that a Prussian artist has engraved lines upon glass so close together that upwards of eighty thousand would go in the space of an inch. Several series of these lines were engraved upon one slip of glass. By these the defining power of any object-glass could be ascertained. As test objects they are unequal to, and even rival, many natural objects which have hitherto been employed for this purpos. The delicate lines are not more than the one one-hundreth-thousandth part of an inch apart.

—David Forbes, F. R. S., has communicated to the Chemical News the results of his analysis of specimens of blister steel, which will be examined with interest because analyses of such steel are rare and seldom found in chemical works. The per. cent. results are as follows: Iron, 99.116; carbon, combined, 0.627; graphitic carbon, 0.102; manganese, 0.126; silicon, 0.039; sulphur, 0.006. No trace of phosphorus was found, although search was made for it by several different methods.

—A new American invention is a dining and billiard table in one. They can be made of any style or size, and when the tops are on, they look like very handsomely carved dining tables. By removing the tops, a billiard table is presented, and by the turning of a lever screw at the end, the whole surface of the table can be uniformly raised or lowered to a height to suit the players. The table is just as perfect, steady, and complete as any other, and the cost far less.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 17, 1867.

Gold opened in the street, before the opening of the board, at 142, but gradually advanced as business proceeded to 144¾, and closed strong. There is a large short interest outstanding, which there is at present no prospect of covering below 143, and on receipt of the cable dispatches showing a heavy decline in bonds and consols, large purchases were made. It is just two weeks since, that attention was directed to the danger arising from disturbed confidence in our national securities by the German bond holders; it was also shown that much more time was required to spread news there affecting American securities than in the United States. The result of the late election has removed their suspicions and we must be prepared to redeem more or less of our bonds held abroad. The decline of our securities in Europe has also affected their quotations in New York, and a decline took place of from ¼ to ⅜ per cent.

The stock market is feverish, and all but clique stocks are very dull and lower; even New York Central, Erie and the Pennsylvania shares could no longer be sustained. Fort Wayne is below par, and Mining stocks are dull. The local money market works very close.

Closing New York quotations received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 144¾; 1881's, 111¾; 5-20s, 1862, 111¾; 1864, 108¾; 1865, 108¾; Consols, 1903, 93-4; do, (1095), 7-20, 1.43.

—The Treasury Department will disburse, on the first of the incoming month, about twenty-seven millions in gold, in interest on bonds. Twenty bonds. This is the largest amount of specie that has ever been paid for any half year's interest. Possibly a quarter or a third of it is due on bonds held abroad; but with the rates at which foreign exchange has lately ruled none of this gold is likely to go out of the country. A good deal of it will undoubtedly be reinvested here in more of our securities, and so much of it as is not will be turned in exchanges. The accumulation of gold in the Treasury is maintained at such a great figure, and is so constantly increasing in volume, that even in view of the disbursements to be made, the Secretary of the Treasury is enabled to sell about his customs receipts, and thus relieve the pressure on the market. His sales, however, have been more for the purpose of obtaining currency than for effecting any temporary quotations. The immense November interest will furnish a good supply of specie for service.

—The east and western roads out of Chicago, of the dividend class, are now enjoying a rich harvest of business, and have been in large receipts since the middle of August. We take three roads as examples—the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy; the Chicago, Alton, and St. Louis; and the Chicago and Rock Island. The first is now earning at the rate of 24 per cent. a year upon its capital; the second at at the rate of 16 per cent. per annum, its dividend being the same as the Rock Island. 19 per cent. a year in cash. The Rock Island is now earning at the average rate of 20 per cent. The net earnings of the road were at the rate of 18 per cent. for the first six months of the current fiscal year of the company, ending September 30th ultimo. The interest and lease charges were paid out of the earnings of the first three months of this term. The five per cent. cash dividend and three per cent. surplus carried to surplus income were made from the first of October to the 30th of September, and chiefly after the effect of the new harvest began to tell on the traffic of the line of August.

—The Treasury at Washington, and the United states Assistant Treasurer at New York, are prepared to accept Seven Thirties of the June or July issues in even exchanges for the Five Twenties of 1867, or, if preferred, the Five Twenties of 1865, charging interest upon the bonds from July 1 to date of conversion, at 6 per cent. in currency, and allowing the accrued interest on the Seven Thirties.

—The Philadelphia Ledger, of Wednesday, says: The large dry goods house, in the city, of John Caldwell & Co., stopped payment on Saturday last. The firm, it is understood, have an arrangement with their creditors under consideration, by which, if acceded to, they will probably continue business.

Another failure was reported yesterday—a large dry goods house, on Second street, as in the other failure noticed, among the liabilities is a large amount on account of borrowed money.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 17, 1867.

CATTLE.

The transactions in cattle were larger than last week, but the market was a much harder one notwithstanding. The arrivals were unusually large, and with a diminished demand for stockers—which has been the main feature of the market for some months past—some of the heaviest buyers having withdrawn, prices for this particular grade of cattle ruled lower than last week, fully half a cent per pound. Prime fat Cattle, however, were in good demand and in limited supply, and, as a consequence, good shipping steers, suitable for retailing in the eastern markets, sold readily at full prices, say from 7 to 7½c, and one small drove of very nice brought 7¾. Stockers, as will be seen by reference to the sales, brought from 3¾ to 5¼, as to quality and condition. The following is a full report of the sales for the week:

HOGS.

The market for Hogs was very dull to-day, and with a very limited demand and liberal arrivals, prices seemed to be tending downward Compared with last week, however, prices have undergone no quotable change, ranging from 6 to 6¼ for New York Hogs, and 7 to 8c for Philadelphia.

SHEEP.

There is no improvement to note in the Sheep market, nor is it likely that there will be until the arrivals fall off materially. The receipts this week were not unusually large, but the demand was hardly up to the standard, and with unfavorable reports from Philadelphia, buyers, generally, were asking for concessions. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 17, 1867.

The general markets are quiet but steady, and while there is a fair volume of business in the aggregate, the transactions as a general thing are of an unimportant character, and prices have undergone no change worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm and in good demand and higher; we have sales of prime Penna. Red reported at $2.00. Corn is steady but unchanged; sale of 3 cars, to go east, at $1.28. Rye is firm at $1.50@1.55. Barley dull and nominal but not yet unchanged; we continue to quote prime Spring at $1.30 in first hands, and $1.35@1.40 in round lots. Oats in moderate demand but firmer at 65@67c on track, and 70c in store.

FLOUR—There is a continued fair local demand, and while the market is quiet, prices are without quotable change. We continue to quote at $11.25@11.75 for Spring Wheat; $12.25@12.75 for Winter Wheat, and $14@14.50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour quoted at $8.50@9.

PROVISIONS — Bacon is firm but unchanged at 14¼@15c for Shoulders; 17@18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 22c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 24@25c for Canvassed do. Lard may be quoted at 14½@15c, and Mess Pork at $24.50@25.

APPLES—The market is well supplied, indeed, is pretty well glutted, and, as a consequence, prices are tending downward. We now quote, prices per bbl, for fair to prime.

BUTTER—Is in better supply and rather dull though unchanged; we continue to quote at 30@35c for fresh packed, and 30@35c for prime Roll.

CHEESE—Is firm, with a steady demand and we can report regular sales at 14@15c, according to quality.

HAY—Is steady but unchanged—sales from country wagons at $15@20 per ton, according to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 17, 1867.

CRUDE—The market is quiet and a little dull, especially for future deliveries, but prices are nominally unchanged. We have but a single sale to report, one thousand barrels for all 1867, seller's option, at 11½. Spot oil, of which the supply is light and being steadily reduced, is still held at 11c, with buyers at 10¼@10½. One firm, we understand, have about twenty-five thousand barrels in tank, which is held at 14c; and at present, from all that we can learn, nothing less will buy it. With the exception of what is in the hands of refiners, this is about all the oil there is in this market at present, and unless there is a bulk rise, and that, too, very soon, it is probable that the party above referred to will get their price, as the supply is light and being steadily reduced, is still held at 14c, with buyers at 13¼@13½. REFINED—The market for bonded oil was a little "coffish" to-day, under the influence of the unfavorable character of the advices from Antwerp, and prices for early deliveries are a shade lower. We can report sales of 1000 bbls for December, buyer's option, at 24½; 500 for October, at 24½; 500 each for November and December at 24½c, and 2000, 500 each for December, January, February and March at 25c. The general impression here is that prices will not decline very much until there is a resumption of navigation, and the stock replenished, no matter what course the foreign markets take.
